

Brought to you by WordsatSpangaloo

Get the Full Book Here

Stuttering Dreams

author

James Bryron Love

Chapter 1

These are a series of poems the first three are untitled as well the ebook contains full colour images

The dawn beckons with weariness, abating the sudden glow

Finals in times

Moving with a quietness, reflecting the mood

Trees yearn for the light as I cast shadows in the morn

The tears kept on falling

Rivers deep in my dreams

It's been so long

Since you made me feel this way

Now it's all gone

and all that's left is the pain

Don't you know

Don't you know

Loving you is not enough

I want it all to go away

But I need you to stay

Now it's all gone

and all that's left is the pain

It's winter baby

Winter deep down inside my soul

Chillin my eyes lookin at you some days it's just chains

Now it's all gone

and all that's left is the pain

The snow's a flying

All I feel is the cold

Cutting deep

Splitting my heart in two.

If I could Love you, I would.

Letting the essence take shape

Quelling the Fears, exposing the dreams

Quietly with a vengeance

Sharing the stare

...excerpt...

Get the Full Book Here